Message from our Group CEO	05
Living our fundamentals	06
(Purpose, Culture, Blue chips, and Flotilla model)

Let's make food matter for people and the planet.

I am pleased to present our Solina Code of Ethics and Business Conduct.

Our Group has grown steadily with a variety of businesses joining us over the years.

Sustainability has become a major strategic driver for Solina, but more importantly we all have a strong desire to do better and show that the food industry can, and will, be part of the solution.

In this context, investing in our people and culture to create a safe, inclusive and ethical working environment is critical to our success now and in the future. It takes years to build a strong entrepreneurial culture, a customer centric reputation, acting with integrity in everything we do, and it can be damaged in an instant if we make the wrong decision.

OUR CODE OF ETHICS AND CONDUCT IS HOW WE DO BUSINESS THE RIGHT WAY,

OUR COMMITMENT DAY AFTER DAY, YEAR AFTER YEAR.

It is critical to maintaining our reputation and the trust of our various stakeholders - our employees, our customers, our suppliers, our shareholders and our communities.

I invite you to read and understand all elements of this code, ask questions and sign up to our internal training sessions and live our fundamentals - our Solina Way, our Flotilla and our Blue Chips.

Thanks for your personal accountability for making Solina a great success.

Sincerely

Anthony Francheterre
Group Chief Executive Officer

LIVING OUR FUNDAMENTALS

Our purpose

We make food matter for people and the planet

Food is experience. Food is health. Food is discovery. Food is culture, and so much more.

Because food is such an important part of our life, we're on a mission to make food that's good in every sense of word.

First by going for great taste. Second, by developing solutions that are good for both people's and our planet's health. But there's more.

We also want to create food that's good in terms of convenience, functionality, affordability, creativity, traceability and more.

In short, we want to make food matter “for people and the planet” that's our company purpose.

Why do we have a Code of Ethics and Business Conduct? Who is responsible of our Code of Ethics and Business Conduct?	10

WHY DO WE HAVE A CODE OF ETHICS AND BUSINESS CONDUCT?

Our Code of Ethics and Business Conduct provides standards, procedures and policies that govern how we do business around the world.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR OUR CODE OF ETHICS AND BUSINESS CONDUCT?

Wherever you are, whatever your role is, our code is here to help you with do's and don'ts that establish how we should behave. By following our code and always acting with integrity, you play an important role in supporting our culture of ethical excellence.

Although our code does not offer an answer for every situation, it will help you navigate them. Make sure you familiarise yourself with the contents. Refer to it often in your work, use good judgement, and always ask for guidance if you need it.

Our code applies to everyone in the company around the world, everywhere, including all Solina employees, officers, directors as well as external staff, such as temporary personnel.

This code is also relevant to our business partners each of whom can have a direct impact on our reputation.

All employees, whatever their role of seniority, are expected to be role models and ensure the right guidance to live our fundamentals and do the right things across all regions, countries, sites and functions within Solina.

Solina Employees are required, as a condition to their employment, to read, review regularly and confirm their understanding of the code.

This code does not constitute a contract or guarantee of employment or create any specific employment rights.

Never be afraid to ask for help, guidance or raise concerns.

YOUR VOICE MATTERS

Whistleblowing system

We create a workplace in which open and honest communications among all employees are valued and respected. We are committed to following all applicable employment laws wherever we operate.

If you have questions about this Code of Ethics and Business Conduct or if you are aware of something that may be a violation of our code, our policies or the law, you must speak up and report it, so it can be addressed.

You have several channels to seek guidance or make a report:

- Your line manager,
- Human Resources and/or Legal & Compliance Departments
- Use our confidential reporting website: YOUR VOICE MATTERS or phone line in any language (see whistleblowing policy for more details and hotline phone numbers).

We are committed to investigating, addressing and responding to concerns and to taking appropriate corrective action in response to any violation.

Protection of the source of information is guaranteed by a non-retaliation procedure.

STOP AND THINK CHECK

This code cannot cover every situation in which you may find yourself.

The following model provides some questions to ask yourself that can help you make the right decision.

If the answer to any of these questions is 'NO', or if you are not sure about the best course of action, you should reconsider it.

1 WOULD I BE HAPPY

if my action was reported in a newspaper or if my family and friends found out?

2 AM I SURE

that the proposed action does not damage Solina or its reputation?

3 AM I SURE

that the proposed action does not involve lying or being untruthful?

4 AM I SURE

that the proposed course of action is not against our fundamentals or the code?

5 AM I SURE

that the proposed course of action is not illegal?

When faced with a situation that you are not sure how to resolve, stop and think. The decision to move forward appears appropriate:

- if YES go ahead.
- if NO or NOT SURE then reconsider your decision and seek advice from: Your line manager, your Executive Member, the Human Resources and/or the Legal & Compliance Department.
